Woodstock Comes to Candor...

It looks as though the biggest event of the century is about to hit this little Tioga County town of Candor New York. After the cancellation of the famous Woodstock event in Watkins Glenn Pete and Sherry Clare proprietors of Turkey Trot Acres have came to the rescue. Backed by an oil tycoon from Summitville, Ohio and a cattle baron from Lowry, Virginia they have decided to host the event. But the true turning point for this decision was the newly completed Peace Tree facility at Turkey Trot Acres. Normally Woodstock would attract 400,000 but Pete says they will need to limit it to 200,000 based on availability of hotels and restaurants in Candor.

Featured at the Turkey Trot Acres Woodstock event will be leading bands from across the country such as Jefferson Airport, Clear Water Revolution, Run With Your Jewels, What's Left Of The Band, Stonerollers, The What just to name a few. Others tapped for this event will be Miley Cypress, Change The Tapper, Greedy Dead's Mikey Ware, Bob Heart and Billy Kraftamanican. Also featured will be Jimmy Appendix , Joe Cockerspaniel,Carlos Montanal Tickets for the event go on sale April 31 with the event scheduled for September 31.

As the first returnee to the 'Woodstock 50th Anniversary' at the Peace Tree Lodge in Candor I have located my spot. But unlike the first Woodstock in 1969 where I slept in the rain and had to walk miles to the venue me and my dog Pinky are totally set here at The Peace Tree! I look forward to seeing my fellow alumni... please come join me!

Pete and Sherry are still in the planning stage of the event. Pete states that he has been working with the economic development board in Candor and they have assured him that they can help with the staff of approximately 1000 needed to host this event. Local people will be given the first opportunity at these positions. Working with the New York Highway Patrol, they have offered to shut off Honeypot Road at the city limits to allow for the shuttle buses to transport attendees to and from the event. Pete has also been working on a bank of new wood fired pizza ovens to augment some of the food offerings and of course Sherry has big plans for the kitchen modernization to allow for increased demand for some of her famous fare. The actual schedule of the entertainment will be published in late May so that attendees can better plan their vacation times. This is truly shaping up to be the biggest event to ever hit our little community. Stay tuned.
